Beyond the BNA Act

A major conference dealing with the proposals for constitutional change now before Parliament will be held on campus on 12 and 13 February. Co-sponsored by the Faculty of Law and the Department of Political Science, the conference is made possible by generous assistance from the Alberta Law Foundation.

Initial registration will take place and a reception will be held in the Confederation Room of the Macdonald Hotel during the evening of Wednesday, 11 February, from 7 to 11 p.m. On the following morning, registration will take place in the Law Centre and the sessions will begin.

First off, at 9:30 a.m., will be a consideration of "An Amending Formula and Patriation," by Geoffrey Marshall of The Queen's College, Oxford. In the chair will be Bruce Elman of our University, and the commentators will be Peter W. Hogg of Osgoode Hall, York University, and William R. Lederman of Queen's University.

In the afternoon of 12 February, from 2 to 4:30 p.m., "The Resource Question: Ownership, Taxation and Regulation Thereof" will be the focus of attention. For this session, the speaker will be Rowland J. Harrison of the University of Calgary, and David Jones of The University of Alberta will act as chairman. Commentary will be provided by Anthony Scott of the University of British Columbia and Larry Pratt of our institution's Department of Political Science.

The evening of 12 February, from 8 to 10 p.m., will be devoted to a public forum in 2-115 Education North that will have as its topic "An Overview of the Trudeau Constitutional Proposals." For this Richard Simeon of Queen's University will be the speaker and F.C. Engelmann of our University will be in the chair. Initial commentary will be supplied by Alan Cairns of the University of British Columbia and by Garth Stevenson of The University of Alberta.

The next day, Friday 13 February, the conference will resume at 9:30 a.m. with a session on "The Entrenchment of A Bill of Rights." The speaker for this will be Douglas A. Schmeiser of the University of Saskatchewan. Gerald Gall will be in the chair and Kenneth M. Lysyk (UBC) and L.C. Green will act as commentators.

After lunch there will be a final session beginning at 2 p.m. on "Native People's Rights and a New Constitution." The speaker will be Douglas F. Sanders (UBC) and the chairman Gurston Dacks of our University's Department of Political Science. Commentary will be supplied by Eugene Steinhauer of the Indian Association of Alberta and Wilton Littlechild (Littlechild and Goodson, Hobbema, Alberta).

The conference will close with a reception at The Faculty Club sponsored by the Board of Governors followed by a dinner, tickets for which will be available at registration.

For information on registration at "Beyond the BNA Act" and copies of the program, please contact Mariette Kathal, Faculty of Law, 470 Law Centre, telephone 432-2925. □

Bratuz on Bartók

Damiana Bratuz, one of North America's leading authorities on the music of Béla Bartók, will visit The University of Alberta for a dual purpose. On 29 January, Dr. Bratuz will give a detailed lecture on the world which exerted a substantial influence on the great composer. On 30 January, she will perform pieces by Bartók and Liszt. The lecture will take place in 1-29 Fine Arts Centre from 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. and the recital will be held in Convocation Hall beginning at 8 p.m. Both events are free and everyone is welcome to attend.

Dr. Bratuz's lecture will incorporate slides of Hungarian folk art and customs, elements which made a profound impression on Bartók from the time that he first became attracted to Hungarian folk music late in 1904. The outcome of his musicoethnological studies and melody collecting was a decisive influence upon his work because, in Bartók's words, "it freed me from the tyrannical use of the major and minor keys."

"The greater part of the collected treasure, and the more valuable part, was in old ecclesiastical or old Greek modes, or based on the more primitive scales, and the melodies were full of most free and varied rhythmic phrases and changes of tempi, played both rubato and giusto. It became clear to me that the old modes, which had been forgotten in our music, had lost nothing of their vigor. Their new employment made new rhythmic combinations possible."

Dr. Bratuz, Professor of Piano and Piano Literature at the University of Western Ontario, is on a four-month concert tour of North America.

She has been described as a many-sided musician: artist, teacher, lecturer, and author—a musician in whom scholarly authority and imagination are equally alive and subtly blended. Born on the border between Italy and Yugoslavia, she earned the Master's Diploma at the Trieste Conservatory with great distinction and went on to further studies in Italy, Salzburg, Paris, St. Louis, and Indiana.

Dr. Bratuz has given concerts, as soloist and with orchestra, in many European countries and is in much demand in Canada and the United States as a pianist, lecturer, and adjudicator. She has recorded for the CBC and has written three books including

The Folk Element in the Piano Music of Béla Bartók.

Her recital on 30 January will contain selection on the themes "Folk Transcriptions," "Laments," "Man and Nature," and "Dance." Among the works to be performed are "Five Hungarian Melodies," "Nuages Gris," "La Lugubre Gondola," "Csardas Macabre" and "Bagatelle Without Tonality" (all by Liszt) and Bartók's "Colinde, First Series," "Barcorolla" and "The Night's Music" and "The Chase." Program notes prepared by Dr. Bratuz will be distributed at the recital. □

Roland Bonvalet, 1925-80

Roland Bonvalet, Associate Professor in the Department of Romance Languages, died on 23 December 1980 at the age of 55. He is survived by his wife, Nicole, who is also an Associate Professor in Romance Languages and his son, Yvain, as well as by brothers and sisters in France.

Dr. Bonvalet was born in France in 1925 and taught in France and Sweden prior to emigrating to Canada in 1952. He worked for a time as a radio reporter in Saskatchewan and Alberta before going to the University of British Columbia for a BA (Honors), awarded in 1959. He received his MA from the University of California at Los Angeles in 1963 and his doctorate from the Sorbonne in 1976.

Dr. Bonvalet joined the University staff in 1967. He was one of three professors teaching in the area of French-Canadian literature. During his career here he published articles in his field and, in 1975, a novel, La fortune aux larges ailes, based on his experiences as a French immigrant to Canada in the early fifties. He was also active in the francophone community, serving as president of the Alliance

Française d'Edmonton and as secretary of the Richelieu Club. At the time of his death he had completed a book on Lionel Groulx and was working on a sequel to his novel. □

Symposium on Canadian Transport Commission

Rail and air transportation and the regulatory and research roles of the Canadian Transport Commission (CTC) will be considered by means of a symposium at The University of Alberta. The symposium will be held on 29 January under the joint sponsorship of the CTC, the University's Departments of Economics and Rural Economy, and the Faculty of Business Administration and Commerce. All sessions will be conducted in the Council Chamber in University Hall.

Yves Dubé, Vice-President, Research, CTC, will chair the opening session at 9 a.m. and will also present a brief overview of the role of the CTC. The following papers will then be given: "Air Transport Regulation in Canada: Scope and Objectives" by K.W. Studnicki-Gizbert, Executive Director, CTC Research Branch; and "Recent Research Developments in Competition and Regulation in the Canadian Air Transport Industry" by E.K. Culley, Director, Passenger and Aviation Economics, CTC Research Branch.

The papers will be discussed by G.B. Reschenthaler, Faculty of Business Administration and Commerce/Economics, and D.W. Gillen, Economics.

The afternoon session, with E.J. Chambers, Faculty of Business Administration and Commerce as chairman, will start at 1:45 p.m. A paper entitled "Railway Transport Regulation in Canada: Scope and Objectives" will be delivered by J. Heads, Associate Executive Director, CTC Research Branch. The fourth and final paper of the symposium, "Railway Freight Rates," will be given by D.A. Hackston, Executive Director, CTC Traffic and Tariffs Branch.

Papers 3 and 4 will be discussed by K.H. Norrie, Economics; M.J. Dunn, Faculty of Business Administration and Commerce; and J.J. Richter, Rural Economy.

B.L. Scarfe, Economics, will chair the evening session which will begin at 7 p.m. with "Themes in Transportation Research at the CTC: A Brief Overview" by Mr. Dubé. From 7:20 p.m. to the close of the symposium at 9 p.m., a general discussion of transportation research problems will occur.

Staff members of The University of Alberta wishing to attend the symposium must register on the appropriate form, obtainable by telephoning Mrs. Joan McDonald (432-4417). A registration fee of either $25 (covering a copy of each paper, as well as lunch and dinner at the Faculty Club), or $5 (without meals), payable to The University of Alberta, must accompany each registration form. Registrations, complete with the fee, should be sent to Mrs. Joan McDonald, Economics, 8-14 H.M. Tory Building, and received no later than 27 January. □

Telerama Week Proclaimed

President Horowitz has announced that the week of 26 January to 1 February is to be Telerama Week at The University of Alberta. The action has been taken in order to highlight the activities of the Associated Canadian Travellers (ACT) as the group of public-minded business men continue their efforts to help disabled people in this the United Nations-designated "International Year of Disabled Persons." At the end of the week, a twenty-hour fund-raising Telerama will be broadcast from the Students' Union Theatre over the CTV network in Edmonton, CFRN Television (Channel 3, Cable 2).

The Telerama, to be hosted for the second consecutive year by the Students' Union, has become a tradition of the ACT. In September 1974, the ACT Edmonton Club announced that it would build a Recreation Centre for the Disabled in Rundle Park and, with the donation of twenty hours of broadcasting by CFRN Television in each of four years from 1975, the goal was realized. As a direct result of the ACT-CFRN TV Teleramas, some $4 million was raised. Today, the ACT Recreation Centre for the Disabled offers a wide variety of services to our community of disabled people—there are classrooms, meeting rooms, a gymnasium, and a specially designed aquatic centre.

The ACT Edmonton Club Foundation is a charitable trust serving the needs of groups, organizations and individuals who work with disabled people in northern Alberta. Although founded in 1977, its history goes back to 1933 when the Associated Canadian Travellers Edmonton Club first received its charter. Among the other important activities funded in part through the trust are Camp Health-Hope-Happiness (He-Ho-Ha) fifty miles west of Edmonton, provision of TOSC units which enable quadriplegic patients to live "normal"

Students Debate Violence

For the fifth year in a row, students from The University of Alberta are participating in a debating tournament sponsored by the Transatlantic University Speech Association (TAUSA). This year the competition is held in Glasgow, Scotland, from 19 to 25 January, and the University is represented by two members of the Students' Union Debating Society, Bruce Fletcher and John Ferris. Both have long histories of debating for the University locally and at intervarsity competitions.

Hosted by the British University Debating Council, this year's event is the largest held so far with teams competing from across the Commonwealth.

The topics for the tourney are "that violence is a legitimate political instrument" and "that the developed world has failed the underdeveloped world." In addition, our representatives have the opportunity of engaging in impromptu debates and extemporaneous speeches.

The University of Alberta is the only institution which has been represented at all five years of the competition. Last year, the debating team was ranked sixth out of the sixty-five teams participating. □ lives, the Multiple Sclerosis Research Clinic at our University, and, also at the University, the Physical Activity Research and Demonstration Centre core of the PREP program.

Dr. Horowitz himself may man one telephone during the Telerama. Watch for more details of the Telerama as the time approaches. The goal this year is between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000. If you have no television, why not send your donation to ACT Edmonton Club Foundation, 18067 107 Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta T5S 1K3. □

Education Lecture Series Award, 1980

In 1980, T.E. Kieren, Professor of Mathematics Education in the Department of Secondary Education, became the successor to L.D. Nelson as recipient of the Faculty of Education's Lecture Series Award. He will present two public lectures to do with mathematical thinking in children and young adults on 3 and 5 February.

Dr. Kieren was the recipient of an annual award designed to promote research within his Faculty. The Lecture Series Award, which carries with it a six-month leave of absence, identifies and rewards people who have gained a high reputation as productive scholars who consistently broadcast the results of their work in published articles and oral presentations. Dr. Kieren met these criteria ably and was able to point to an area in which much valuable work may be done: the characterization of personal knowledge mathematically—as opposed to mathematical achievement—among children and young adults. During his period of leave from teaching duties, Dr. Kieren investigated that topic as it relates to people nine to fifteen years old.

Dr. Kieren has been a member of the Faculty of Education since 1970 and was appointed Professor in 1976. He studied at Carleton, Minnesota, where he gained a baccalaureate degree, before continuing in post-graduate work at Northwestern University where he was awarded an MA, and at Minnesota where he gained his doctoral degree.

Both public lectures will be delivered in 2-115 Education North. The first of the two, "Five Faces of Mathematical Knowledge Building," will be presented at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, 3 February. The second presentation, "Research Methods—Why Implies How," may be heard at 3:30 p.m. on Thursday, 5 February. □

Department of Chemistry to Host Coal and Oil Sands Workshop

On 28 January, in conjunction with Nicolet Instrument Canada Incorporated, the Department of Chemistry is to host a one-day workshop. The topic will be "The Application of Fournier Transform Infra-Red (FT-IR) Techniques in the Development of Coal and Oil Sands Energy Resources."

The principal speakers at the workshop will be Peter Solomon and Warren Vidrine. Dr. Solomon is currently associated with Advanced Fuels Research in Hartford, Connecticut, and Dr. Vidrine is with the Nicolet FT-IR Applications Group in Madison, Wisconsin.

FT-IR techniques in the development of alternate energy resources will be considered in four specific areas, each itself subdivided into categories of special interest. The areas are solid phase analysis, liquid phase analysis, gaseous phase analysis, and applications.

The workshop will be held in E-325 Chemistry Building from 8:45 a.m. to 5 p.m. Registration is limited to thirty-five people and the fee, which includes appropriate technical literature and a buffet-style lunch, is set at $50.

For further information about the workshop, please contact Dr. Gene Strumila, Nicolet Instrument Canada Inc., 1-1200 Aerowood Drive, Mississauga, Ont. L4W 2S7. Telephone (416) 625-8302. □

Letters

■ Particularly in view of the current professions of concern over the inability of students to write correct English, it is more than a little dismaying to read an item in Folio, the author of which, very evidently, has yet to reach an understanding of the distinction between "shall" and "will". In the issue of 8 January, under the heading "People," unless some higher authority is using your columns to director Professor Tennesen's activities, which I take leave to doubt, he will, not shall, be visiting professor at Oslo, just as he will, not shall, represent the University of Alberta at Dubrovnik.

During Engineering Week (12 to 17 January) students from the Faculty sculpted ice statues and had their beer kegs purloined by rivals in Agriculture and Forestry. The "Aggies" ransomed the kegs for $50 and contributed to proceeds to the Boysdale Camp for less fortunate children.
